ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my pleasure to gratefully acknowledge the assistance I have received in completing this thesis.

Firstly, I would like to thank Professor Michael Roe for his helpful supervision and encouragement with this project and throughout my course of studies at the University of Tasmania. It has been a privilege to be his student. The friendship and support of my fellow "M. Hummers" over the past three years has made this a gratifying experience on many accounts.

I am grateful to the Hydro Electric Commission, and particularly to Ms. Kate Wheatley of the Public Relations Department, for the co-operation and assistance given to me with access to their archival material. Thanks also are due to former Chief Commissioner Sir Allan Knight for valuable information gained through an interview with him.

And I am most indebted to the many postwar migrants I have had the pleasure of meeting and getting to know in the last year. Their generosity in sharing their lives and stories with me is admired, and their contribution to this work gratefully recognized.

Finally, my sincere thanks to my husband, Susumu Okada, who continues to amaze me with his patience, and his computer skills.
